

Active Transportation Plan

Regional Trails Network Vision

Trails are an important part of the regional pedestrian and bicycle networks and provide connections to the trails systems beyond the urban area. This map shows all the trails that are part of the regional and interregional trails network vision: many of them are also part of the regional pedestrian and bicycle networks.

